

CEO Tang, Behave Yourself Novel Chapter 17 To 18

---

C17

Listening to Su Huanhuan grumbling on the other end of the phone, although the words she said weren't good, it made her heart warm.

"Huanhuan, thank you for speaking up for me. Also, I've implicated you in this. I'm sorry!"

Hey, sister, why are we talking like this? Why are you telling me this? If you really feel bad, then just tell me what's going on. I'm feeling like a cat in my heart, and I'm curious about it. Also, Dad seems to be different with my sister-in-law today.

"The eldest sister-in-law had a secret check-up done on her and said that the child in her womb is her son!"

A single sentence was more than a thousand words. After hearing this, Su Huanhuan was silent for a long time. After a long while, she finally said, "LuLu, this child's future will be very difficult!"

As someone who had experienced much before, how could Su Huanhuan not understand what would happen in the future?

The two sisters simultaneously let out a sigh as they looked at the phone.

"Oh right, aren't you curious about what happened today? I'll tell you and you'll be happy too! "

He jokingly told Su Huanhuan about Zhou Jing's request today and Su Dong's call afterwards.

"Beautiful! Sis, according to what I've said, if you encounter such a thing again in the future, why did we put in so much money and work for you, it should be taken for granted by them. Other than having this obligation to support our father, we don't have this obligation to our big brother's family, you were too easy to talk to them before, only then will they get more benefits. You let Sis and I raise this request to protect my grandma and make sure that she doesn't have the face to see anyone else."

Nikki reached out to stroke her forehead, feeling a headache. "Good little sister, can we stop talking about this topic? If we continued to chat, it would be time for me to go for another hot pot meal. But now, my stomach really couldn't hold even a little bit of food."

"Alright, alright, alright. I won't say anymore!" "Truly a dog who bites Lu Dongbin but doesn't recognize the kindness of his heart. I can't be bothered to say anything about you, but it's a waste of my saliva!"

Su Wen laughed as he praised, "My good sister, you are the one who knows how to feel heartache the most! By the way, are you in good health? Did you have a pregnancy reaction? "

"Nothing, everything is normal, you don't have to worry about me, I will take care of myself, there are so many people around me, but you, be careful outside, remember to close the door when you sleep at night ..."

"I got it, little housekeeper!" Warmth truly felt lucky that she had such a good younger sister to talk about in this family.

"That's right, Huanhuan, there's something I want to confirm with you. Have you and Jianhao received your marriage certificate?"

"Not yet, this matter is not urgent, since the family's wedding banquet is already held, how could he renege on the debt? Sis, you should know that if we don't get the certificate for the wedding banquet, no one will say that we are a couple even if we don't get the certificate!"

Su Huanhuan was clearly not too concerned about this, but Su Wen felt that this was not the case.

Huanhuan, no matter what the customs are, you and Jianhao don't have a marriage certificate, so you are not an official couple in law. To put it bluntly, what if there is something you want to protect your legal rights in the future? Without this certificate, you can't even protect it.

"This is not something I want to drag on. It's something that Jia Hao said was easy to get a pass for. Just wait until you get a pass. Don't worry about it, it's just something trivial, and you've dragged it all the way up to now!"

"Then hurry up and urge Jia Hao to go and get the certificate, you are already pregnant with your second child, the first child is because you missed the registration time, so you can only let Jia Hao and Fang Fang have the paternity test. You don't want to have another paternity test because you don't have a marriage certificate, right?" This certificate is definitely easier than paternity test! "

"Sis, I've remembered this matter. You can rest assured!"

The two sisters chatted about their daily life before hanging up. When Nikki raised her head to look at the time, she was shocked to find that it was almost 10 o'clock.

Nikki looked at the dirty dishes on the table and the electric cooker filled with hot pot ingredients. She slapped her forehead and said, "Ah ~ It's more than five thousand yuan worth of debt again!"

Tomorrow, she would need nearly 20,000 words to maintain the 10,000 yuan mark. At the thought of this, she felt a throbbing pain in her butt. If tomorrow's 20,000 yard mark was used, her butt would probably rot.

However, it was already so late tonight. When she cleaned up the pots and pans in front of her, it would at least be eleven o'clock. If she did not sleep tonight, she would definitely not be able to get up the next day.

He only thought about it for a moment and soon decided to go to sleep after washing the dishes. He would get up tomorrow and work hard.

In order to avoid the possibility that something like today might happen again, she decided to block out the numbers and concentrate on the code characters.

After making up his mind, Nikki's movements also sped up.

At eleven o'clock, after washing up, he went back to bed.

Because she was in a hurry to go to bed, she had completely forgotten to pull the curtains. The room in her hometown had no windows, so she hadn't had the habit of pulling the curtains before going to bed for the past two years.

And this mistake made Tang Banyeng, who was in the opposite building, watch another good show in the morning.

The physiological clock was not that easy to adjust. Even though Nikki had set the alarm clock the night before, when she woke up the next day, it was still past ten o'clock. She didn't even hear the alarm clock, but she had obviously set it to maximum, and the strangest thing was that her alarm clock was gone!

With a face full of regret, he got out of bed and used the same speed as yesterday to prepare himself a simple and nutritious breakfast.

But today, when she was done with all her preparations, sitting in front of the computer and rubbing her hands together in an attempt to spell 20,000 words, she realized that the computer could not be switched on no matter what.

Nikki pressed the power button several times, but couldn't open it no matter how hard she tried.

Could it be that there was a power cut? However, she was using a notebook. Even if the power was cut off, the computer still had some stored electricity. And just now, when she was using the microwave to heat the milk, there was still electricity.

www.onlinefreenovels.com

C18

In order to make sure that the computer wasn't shut down due to the power failure, Nikki turned on the lamp on the table. The moment the lamp was turned on, the reason for the power failure was naturally eliminated!

It wasn't because there was no electricity, but because the motherboard was broken?

Thinking of this possibility, Su Wen's face turned pale. People who wrote code words were most afraid of a computer crash. Once the computer crashed, the stored files and information inside might not be retrieved. This was worse than killing her.

If he had a habit of backing up the original script and the information, perhaps the problem wouldn't be too serious. At most, he would just lose two days worth of script. However, he didn't have the habit of doing so.

Nikki closed her eyes and put her hands together, hoping that God would not be so cruel to her.

After sincerely begging for help from various deities, Nikki opened her eyes once more and carefully checked her laptop to see if there was any other reason why her laptop couldn't be powered on.

If she looked carefully, she would notice that the laptop's membrane keyboard seemed to be a little wet. Usually, for the sake of code code, she used the external mechanical keyboard and rarely used the membrane keyboard that the laptop brought with it. That's why she didn't notice anything just now, and the water stains on the keyboard were almost completely dry.

Where did this water come from? Was it a leak in the ceiling?

He looked up at once, but there was nothing on the ceiling.

It was true that the water in the cup was much less than the previous night, but it was also normal for the air conditioning in the room to be so dry that the water in the cup would be reduced. If there was anything wrong with the water in the cup, it was that the water in the cup was a little too much, and it seemed to move a little closer to the computer.

A light bulb went off in Warmth's head, and he immediately jumped up from his chair. While doing so, he picked up a piece of paperweight from his desk and placed his back against the wall, looking around vigilantly.

Downstairs, there was the living room, the kitchen, and the bathroom. Near the window, there was a wooden landing cabinet that led to the bedroom upstairs, while upstairs, although the space was called a bedroom, it was actually only able to fit a 1.5 meter high bed. The bed was surrounded by a kind of semi-open glass, so that the living room's light could shine through the huge window in the living room and into the sleeping area.

Nikki looked up and down the walls. From where she was standing, she could clearly see the living room and the bedroom area. She was sure that there were no hidden people here. Was she hiding in the kitchen or bathroom?

She gripped the paperweight in her hand tightly, and walked step by step towards the door. She wanted to move to the door and open it, so that if there was anything, she could run away.

Furthermore, both the kitchen and the bathroom were in the direction of the door. If she wanted to check if there was anyone inside, she would have to go in that direction.

It wasn't easy for him to get close to the door, but he found the lock on the door was still intact. Even the anti-theft chain was hanging on the door.

Warmth couldn't help but mutter in his heart, didn't that thief come in through the door? But she had seen the windows were closed, and her room was on the twenty-sixth floor. The exterior of the building was very smooth, and unless one was a Spider-Man, it was impossible to climb in through the windows.

He first stuck his head into the kitchen and after making sure that there was no one around, he reached out his hand and pushed at the bathroom door.

Then, like the policemen in the movie, he pointed the paperweight in his hand straight at the bathroom and shouted loudly, "Don't move! I have already discovered you! "

After seeing that there was no movement inside, she peeked into the bathroom. When she was sure that there was no one in the bathroom, he carefully went in step by step and searched every possible place, but there was no one in sight. Not only was there no one, there was not even a single trace of someone hiding in the bathroom.

While stroking her chin, she walked back into the living room and stood still. When she saw the bright sunlight outside, another idea suddenly popped into her mind. It wasn't a person, could it be ... Ghost?

As soon as this thought appeared in his mind, he hurriedly walked to the desk, opened a drawer and took out a small red box. Opening the box, he saw that there was a jade Guan Yin pendant inside.

This was Su Wangyou's mother's birthday present for her, saying that it could keep her safe. Su Wangsun had been wearing this before, but after her mother had died of illness, she had kept it away, afraid that it might break or she might lose it. Even her last thoughts would be gone, but in this kind of emergency situation, only this jade pendant could give her a sense of security.

Warmth quickly brought the pendant up to his neck and then carefully put it inside his collar.

After doing all of this, Nikki clasped her hands together and bowed towards the surroundings of the house, muttering to herself, "No wonder, although I have never done anything shameful in my life, but I am afraid of knocking on the door in the middle of the night, please leave quickly, all of you, please!"

"Pfft!"

Tang Bainfeng couldn't help but to burst out laughing as he looked at her blabbering expression.

Although he couldn't hear what this woman was saying, he could guess most of the things she was saying just by looking at her actions. Right now, if he couldn't find the thief in her imagination, then he must have suspected that there was a ghost at home!

"Boss Tang?" The project manager held a folder in his hands as he looked at the two of them sitting in front of him with a puzzled expression. However, he turned to look at the big boss outside the window. Was his proposal really that funny? The big boss was laughing like this?

Tang BIngfeng coughed lightly. He turned his head to look at the project manager. "Nothing much, just keep going!"

"Yes, Boss Tang. In the early stages, we were prepared to invest into this movie city project ..."

As he listened to the project manager's report, Tang Banyeng recalled the scene he had unintentionally seen when he first arrived at the office this morning.